Working in partnership with:

Do you live in Ladywood?

Housing 21 wants to give local people over the age of 60 an opportunity to plan, design and live in new homes.

Housing 21

Housing 21 and Birmingham City Council have identified an area of land to provide housing and communal facilities for local older people.

We want you to help design a neighbourhood that allows you to live and thrive as neighbours and friends.

Help us create a community of new homes in your local area

A place where you can get to know your neighbours. A place to share with others. A place where you have a say in how your community is managed.

Are you interested in:

- Staying in your local area in a property designed for people over the age of 60?
- Being part of a community?
- Having a say in how the community housing project is run or managing it yourself with your neighbours?
- Living in a well-designed property that can help you save money on your bills and living costs?
